SENSELESS FANATICS SPEAK IN A JARGON

Tangled Tongues Arrive from California and Pentecostal Mission People Worked Into Frenzy of Religious Excitement--No Color Line Is Drawn

Two of the vanguard of the "Tongues of Fire," the weird and strange new band of religious fanatics that have thrown Los Angeles and other California cities into a frenzy of excitement, have arrived in Salem and are preaching in "tongues," singing in unknown words and music, healing the sick, curing the halt and lame and casting out devils at the Pentecostal mission on Twelfth street.

They held their first meeting last night. It was a hot time. Rev. M. B. Ryan, the leader of the mission has been preparing for the coming of the workers and he claims to have received the gift of tongues and the power to cast out devils. At any rate he goes over some jargon every night that he says is the Holy Ghost speaking through him in an African tongue.

Last night at one stage of the game, twenty people were loudly speaking in as many different kinds of gibberish and all in different keys. The effect on ignorant and hysterical women can better be imagined than described.

Both Are Women.

The two workers who arrived last night are women. There is no danger of the "Tangled Tongues" violating either the letter or the spirit of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution, and the color line is not drawn. The leader, the more intelligent, or rather the less illiterate of the two women is a rather pleasant faced mulatto. She has three specialties, singing, preaching in unknown tongues and bestowing the power of the Holy Ghost by laying on of hands. She claims that until a short time ago, she was unable to sing a word and could neither read nor write. Now she says that she is given power to speak in every tongue on earth, can sing songs that she never heard words or tune to and can write in many languages.

She made her debut in Salem by singing a wild, weird, fantastic song, in a clear and soft voice, possessing the melody and strange, creepy, wild rhythmic cadence, common to the ignorant and uncouth people of her race. She said she had never heard tune or words before and that Jesus was singing out of her mouth. The melody was one common in the negro settlements in the rural districts of the southern states and the words were not so intricate but she could have composed them as she sang. They were almost senseless and had little rhyme or reason.

All Were Weeping.

There is a strange, fascination in the wild and weird melody of a negro singing religious songs and her frenzied audience caught this and in a few moments were worked up to a hysterical height of frenzy. Women were weeping, wailing and sobbing as if their hearts would break; children were crying; old men with whiskers and patriarchal beards threw themselves prostrate before the mulatto girl and begged for her blessing.

Rev. M. B. Ryan was the first set speaker. He is somewhat eloquent and he grows intensely enthusiastic. He spoke in a dialect that was new and different from anything ever heard in Salem. Strange to say the number of syllables in the lingo and in the English translation are the same; something before unknown in languages.

The white woman is the oldest and biggest. She has little to say and says it poorly. She is unlettered and when the spirit gave her power to the gift of all languages, he must have been shy on English; for "There are maids as fair as she, Whose verbs and nouns do more agree."

The colored girl told the history of the movement in Los Angeles and said the gift first came to the colored people. They wrestled with the Lord for six months and the Holy Ghost would not come. Then they heard of great work being done east of there and they raised money and sent for.

A Big Nigger from Texas who came and baptised them all with the gift of tongues and with fire. The colored girl then told of her experience. She said she asked the Lord to give her a parable that would be easy for her to understand. She said the following conversation then took place:

Lord—"Daughter, see those clothes hanging on the line?"
Girl—"Yes, Lord."

Lord—"Would you be ashamed to wear them this way; they ain't been ironed?"

Girl—"Yes, Lord."

Lord—"You no more get sanctified when you get religion than you can wash and iron at the same time. After your clothes are ironed, you are not ashamed to put them on and wear them, are you?"

Girl—"No, Lord."

Lord—"Daughter did you ever see anyone wear a garment and iron it at the same time?"

Girl—"No, Lord."

Lord—"Then no more can you get the Holy Ghost and religion at the same time."

After the colored girl cooled down a little, what was called a season of prayer followed.

Prayed for Tongues.

Mr. Ryan took charge of the meeting and a score of followers many of them old men with the whiskers of a Mormon bishop knelt down at the altar and all began to pray out loud for the gift of tongues. They prayed as loud as did the priests of Baal, when defied by the Prophet Elijah. Occasionally one would get the gift, but he would keep right on praying for his neighbor and even in a louder tone than before.

At this juncture nearly everyone in the room was weeping. It tried the nerves of the coolest and the strongest. The negro woman was worked up to a white heat of frenzied wrath. She went from mourner to mourner and placed her hands on their heads and in a wild and strange way, seeming to possess some kind of mesmeric and hypnotic influence she would call down the gift of tongues. She first worked on Rev. Mr. Shipley, who has long preached at the mission. Then she tackled Rev. Mr. Smith, of Dallas. He prayed long, loud and faithfully for the gift of languages, but at last accounts he was still talking in United States dialects and doing his praying in Polk county lingo.

The mystery of all this is something wonderful. Anyone can see these people mean this. They are not fakers.

These two women from Los Angeles are too ignorant and illiterate to put up a job of any kind. When the negress speaks, her face shines like new money. Her countenance is transfigured, so to speak. She could not put that on. The white woman is too fat to get enthused, but she looked happy. Well authenticated cases of remarkable cures from disease are recorded. It's a great psychological problem. What it is; is it?

Its Growing.

It has not yet reached its zenith. It spreads. Will it end in the asylum? Who knows? At Los Angeles one leader was arrested for lunacy but the court said he was no crazier than 800 followers and the bug house wouldn't hold them all. Salem seems ripe for such a movement. Creffield, of Holy Roller memory flourished here. Other crazes have taken root. Will this grow and what it is; is it?

Thousands Have Kidney

Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and sealding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

A LAZY LIVER

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over-work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver complaint," or torpid liver, by its wonderful control over the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system of poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

Symptoms. If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, or biliousness, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver, or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot breads and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

Of Golden Seal root, which is one of the prominent ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic (stomach) tonic and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric (stomach) catarrh and headaches accompanying same."

Dr. Grover Coe, of New York, says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator) it has few equals." Dr. Coe also advises it for affections of the spleen and other abdominal viscera generally, and for scrofulous and glandular diseases, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, debility, chronic diarrhea, constipation, also in several affections peculiar to women, and in all chronic derangements of the liver, also for chronic inflammation of bladder, for which Dr. Coe says "it is one of the most reliable agents of cure."

Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, author of the AMERICAN DISPENSARY, gives it a prominent place among medicinal agents, reiterates all the foregoing writers have said about it, as does also Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati. Dr. Scudder says: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched. . . . the consequent improvement on the glandular and nervous systems are natural results." Dr. Scudder further says, "In relation to its general effect upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic, useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal root: "It is a most superior remedy in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of the stomach), chronic constipation, general debility, in convalescence from protracted fevers, in prostrating night-sweats. It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb." (This agent, Golden Seal root, is an important ingredient of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's weaknesses, as well as of the "Golden Medical Discovery.") Dr. Ellingwood continues, "In all catarrhal conditions it is useful."

Much more, did space permit, could be quoted from prominent authorities as to the wonderful curative properties possessed by Golden Seal root.

We want to assure the reader that "Golden Medical Discovery" can be relied upon to do all that is claimed for Golden Seal root in the cure of all the various diseases as set forth in the above brief extracts, for its most prominent and important ingredient is Golden Seal root. This agent is, however, strongly reinforced, and its curative action greatly enhanced by the addition, in just the right proportion of Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure glycerine. All of these are happily and harmoniously blended into a most perfect pharmaceutical compound, now favorably known throughout most of the civilized countries of the world. Bear in mind that each and every ingredient entering into the "Discovery" has received the endorsement of the leading medical men of our land, who extol each article named above in the highest terms. What other medicine put up for sale through druggists can show any such professional endorsement? For dyspepsia, liver troubles, all chronic catarrhal affections of whatever name or nature, lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, the "Discovery" can be relied upon as a sovereign remedy.

A little book of extracts treating of all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, being extracts from standard medical works, of the different schools of practice will be mailed free to any one asking (by postal card or letter), for the same, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and giving the writer's full post-office address plainly written.
